Key Risks

The securities described herein may not be eligible for sale in all jurisdictions or to certain categories of investors. The value of investments, and the income from them, can go down as well as up, and you may not recover the amount of your original investment. Certain investments carry a higher degree of risk than others and are, therefore, unsuitable for some investors. Past performance and simulated past performance are not reliable indicators as to future performance. There is no guarantee that targets will be achieved. Foreign currency rates of exchange may adversely affect the value, price or income of any security or related instrument mentioned in this report. Different currency classes may have differing return patterns. Neither Linear nor any of its affiliates, directors, employees, consultants or agents accepts any liability for any loss or damage arising out of the use of all or any part of this material. Prior to contemplating any financial transaction, independent financial advice should be sought.

Target Audience

The information provided is intended only for Eligible Counterparties and Professional Clients as defined by the rules established by the FCA and as set out in the FCA Handbook (COBS 3). No other person should rely or act upon any information contained in this strategy sheet. For the avoidance of doubt, this material is not made to or directed at Retail Clients (as defined by the rules established by the FCA and as set out in the FCA Handbook) and should not be distributed to or relied upon by Retail Clients under any circumstances. This report may not be reproduced or redistributed, in whole or in part, without the written permission of Linear and Linear accepts no liability whatsoever for the actions of third parties in this respect.

Back-tested Data

The performance information of the portfolio depicted in this strategy sheet presents back-tested (simulated) performance based on a combination of 1) actual historical returns from the underlying investments where available, and 2) actual historical returns from a proxy or index where historical returns of the investment is unavailable. The approach is to minimise, within reason, the use of proxy or index. Please contact a member of the Linear DFM team for more information which proxies have been used, where they have been used, and the rationale for the use of each proxy. For the avoidance of doubt, the term "proxy" is used to define a financial instrument or investment which is substantially the same as one of the underlying investments. Back-tested performance is hypothetical (it does not reflect trading in actual accounts) and is provided for informational purposes only to indicate historical performance had the portfolio been available over the relevant time period. Back-tested performance does not represent actual performance of the portfolio and should not be interpreted as reliable indication of future performance. Back-tested results have certain inherent limitations. Such results do not represent the impact that material economic and market factors might have on the decision-making process if the strategy was live. Since trades have not actually been executed, results may have under- or over-compensated for the impact. Back-tested performance also differs from actual performance because it is achieved through the retroactive application of model portfolios designed with the benefit of hindsight.
